WiFi at the Charles University

In most university buildings, eduroam WiFi is available and can be used by students and employees of the Charles University and other affiliated organisations. Most faculties of the Charles University, however, administer their WiFi networks themselves, while some WiFi networks are administered by the Computer Science Centre of the Charles University.

WiFi networks administered by the Computer Science Centre of the Charles University

WiFi networks which are available in the buildings and facilities of the Rectorate of the Charles University and some other Charles University buildings are administered by the Computer Science Centre of the Charles University:
